Re: Loscalzo v. New Roc Motorcycles, LLC; 07-Civ-3046

Dear Ms. Donnelly:

This is to confirm that, based upon a review of my applicable records, it appears that I met in person with Ms. Loscalzo in or about the week of February 19, 2007.

Very truly yours,

Leonard N. Flamm

EXHIBIT 2

After the customer left, Wayne reprimanded me for brining the customer into his office while he was doing paperwork. I misunderstood his direction when he said go pick out a helmet and come back. So that's what I did. He was mad because I brought the customer right into his office.

A few minutes later I went to ask him a question and he told me to "GET OUT". I actually thought he was joking. Then I realized he wasn't. I said I thought that we should not make a customer wait that was standing there under a time constraint and he said "I wasn't going to tell him what to do and get out" again and then repeated "OUT" "OUT"

- On the stairs he told me "I need to" my mouth!

9/1 - Wayne said He wanted to work this out & said "He would take over the deals while I trained. I started doing the first on line training class - selling S. Got through the day until I asked about commissions and he said he was taking my deals except for Solazzo because I didn't do any of the work.

9/2 - Wayne told me not to wear shoes watched movies / training videos in. Dig about me trailoring to sturgis and not riding.

9/3/06 - I was late, wore sneakers in Wayne said "Nice of you to show up!" and why are you wearing sneakers. - I told him I had my shoes and was going to change he said I never listen - I changed my shoes
and then he said he wanted to speak to me and then ask me to punch out for the day.
